Introduced by Mr. COWLES, of Yadkin.

W. W. Holden, Printer to the State.

RESOLUTIONS.

(Special order for Friday, 12 o'clock, the 5th Dec.)

Resolved, That however necessary to the maintenance of the common cause, to which we have pledged our lives and fortunes, may be the execution of the laws passed by the Confederate Congress, known as the Conscription laws, yet said laws being harsh and ungrateful in their provisions, it is of the utmost importance that they should be executed with great care and tenderness of the liberties of the people. Therefore,

Be it further Resolved, That the maintenance of the rights of the States, and the preservation of the civil liberties which our people have ever enjoyed, require that said laws should be executed in the several States only by the officers of said States, appointed by, and responsible to the Constitutional authorities of said States.

Resolved further, That whilst North Carolina is willing to furnish her full quota in men and money, for the prosecution of the war in which we are now engaged, yet, justice to herself and the defence of her own soil, now occupied and threatened by the enemy, alike require that her executive authorities should see to it, that she furnish no more than her just proportion of men and money, until the invader is driven from her own soil, and the lives and homes of her own citizens secured from the impending danger.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States in Congress assembled, That...

RESOLUTION

(Approved March 3, 1854, by the Senate and House of Representatives)

That in order to maintain the integrity of the common school system, and to prevent any person from being employed in the common schools of the State, who is not a native-born citizen of the United States, or who is not a white person, it is the duty of the State to enact and enforce a law to that effect.

That the maintenance of the common school system is a matter of public concern, and the preservation of the public peace is a matter of public concern, and the preservation of the public peace is a matter of public concern.

Resolved, That the common school system is a matter of public concern, and the preservation of the public peace is a matter of public concern, and the preservation of the public peace is a matter of public concern.
